John Port Spencer Academy 	Homework
1 – Working Above Expected	The student always does their very best to complete their homework tasks. They work independently at home, reading widely around the subject. This student takes pride in their learning and homework and completes their homework on time. This student is organised and prepared and uses independent learning time to revise or enhance their understanding and knowledge of the subject. They are an excellent example to others and a shining example of the John Port Way
2 – Working At Expected	The student usually completes their homework tasks to a good standard. They work independently at home, reading around the subject. This student takes pride in their learning and homework and completes their homework on time. This student is organised and prepared and uses independent learning time to revise or enhance their understanding and knowledge of the subject. This student is achieving the John Port Way.
3 – Working Towards Expected	The student does not always complete their homework tasks to a satisfactory standard. They work sometimes work independently at home but need to do more. They need to do more reading around the subject. This student takes sometimes takes pride in their learning and homework but does not always complete their homework on time. This student is usually organised and prepared but can be disorganised and not ready for learning. They need to use independent learning time to revise or enhance their understanding and knowledge of the subject. This student needs to work harder to fully achieve the John Port Way.
4 – Working Below Expected	The student does not complete their homework tasks. They do not work independently at home and need to do more. They need to do more reading around the subject. This student does not take pride in their learning and homework and but does not complete their homework on time. This student is disorganised and unprepared for learning. They do not use independent learning time to revise or enhance their understanding and knowledge of the subject. This student is not reaching the standards expected of John Port Way.